

Modern Foreign Languages

Miss V. Meunier: French

Mrs C. Tallentire: German

Mrs A. Mallett: Spanish

Topics/Units studied:

- The culture and history of the target language country
- Cinema, literature and other Arts from the country
- Music and the history of music, particularly in French and Spanish for French and Spanish speaking countries around the world
- Politics and current social issues
- Literature: book studies
- Film: a film study
- Technology/ use of media/ cyber society
- Voluntary/ charity work and its role and purpose in the target language country

Key dates & deadlines:

All 3 MFL are examined and assessed through the AQA Examination Board

This is a linear course, with no coursework.

There are examinations in:

- Writing
- Reading/ listening
- Speaking

Work on the study of two books or one book and a movie (movie to be studied in Year 12 only if chosen) will also be examined at the end of the course.

Career Pathways:

- Teaching
- Research
- Travel and Tourism
- Airline industries
- Business and marketing
- Law and International law
- Journalism
- Translation
- Engineering
- Tour management (music industry)
- Interpreter
- Diplomatic affairs

Success

MFL has a proven excellent of results.

MFL is a facilitating subject, opening doors to Oxbridge and Russell group Universities.

Progression

Students with A Level Languages usually progress to

University degrees in Modern Foreign Languages

University degrees with a specialism in Translation (we have an ex student who studied A Level French and Spanish and is currently in London starting a Masters in media translations- leading to careers in the film industry)

Spend a year or two abroad in the target language country of their chosen language or languages

Combine a language with a scientific, medicine or an English degree

